NAVAL MARVEL OF ENGLAND

"Let 'Em All Come!" the Challenge on the Lion's Bow.

Cruiser Just Launched Ought to Whip Any Battle Ship Afloat. Her Speed Thirty Knots.

There was no gloating in the London newspapers over Germany when the colossal cruiser battle ship, Lion, was launched at Devonport. Perhaps the only boast was that of the painter, who scrawled "Omnes veniant!" in big letters on the bow of the vessel. The phrase may be freely rendered as "Let 'em all come!"

The Lion, as has been cabled, is a naval marvel. She helps further to dim the rapidly disappearing line of distinction between the armored cruiser and battle ship. Although classed as a cruiser, the Lion in armor and gun power ought to be able to wipe out any battle ship now afloat. As for speed, she can outfoot any battle ship, for her engines ought to develop a speed of thirty knots and over.

The Lion will be able to take her place as flagship of the home fleet before December, 1911. Her complement will be 500 officers and men. While the admiralty has issued no official figures of the Lion's might, and her construction was carried on with secrecy, it is believed that her displacement when ready for her flag will be 25,300 tons, that she will be able to get thirty knots and better out of her turbine engines of 70,000 horse-power, and that she will carry as her armament eight 13.5-inch and twenty-four 6-inch guns.

Her protection will consist of a belt of Simpson steel nine and three-quarter inches thick, out this will not be carried to the extremities of the ship, where reliance will be placed upon a minute water-tight subdivision of the hull.

England's first modern armored cruiser—those of the Cressy type—were of 12,000 tons and twenty-one knots speed, and carried two 9.2-inch and twelve 6-inch guns. The enormous development that has been made since then by successive types will be seen by the following table:

Type	Date	Length	Ton	Horse	Speed
Cressy	1892	454	12,000	21,000	21
Drake	1892	515	13,300	20,000	23
County	1892	382	4,800	9,000	22.00
Devonshire	1903	430	10,500	21,000	23
Black Prince	1904	480	13,500	23,500	23.5
Defence	1905	520	14,000	27,000	23
Invincible	1907	580	17,200	41,000	25
Indefatigable	1909	578	18,750	43,000	25
Lion	1910	700	25,300	70,000	28

The advance in gun power is if anything even more striking. The following table shows the armament, the weight of metal thrown in one discharge of all the guns of 4 inch caliber and over, and the weight of metal similarly thrown with all available guns bearing on the broadside:

Class and armament	Total Broadside	Gunfire	Pounds	Pounds
Cressy, two 9.2-in. and twelve 6-in.	1,900	1,300
Drake, two 9.2-in. and sixteen 6-in.	2,300	1,500
County, fourteen 6-in.	1,400	900
Brensholm, four 7.5-in. and six 6-in.	1,400	900
Black Prince, six 9.2-in. and ten 6-in.	3,500	2,200
Warrior, six 9.2-in. and four 7.5-in.	3,500	2,200
Defence, four 9.2-in. and ten 7.5-in.	3,500	2,200
Invincible, eight 12-in. and sixteen 6-in.	7,200	7,100
Indefatigable, eight 12-in. and sixteen 6-in.	7,200	7,100
Lion, eight 13.5-in. and twenty-four 6-in.	11,144	10,800

In the twelve years that have passed since the completion of the Cressy type, therefore, displacement has been more than doubled, and speed has increased by 33 per cent, but the weight of broadside has been increased almost exactly eight times, to say nothing of the far greater ranging power of the 12 inch and 13.5 inch guns compared with the 9.2 inch, with which the earlier vessels were armed.

Iowa Sails for New York.
Special to The Washington Herald. Annapolis, Md., Sept. 3.—The battle ship Iowa, flagship of the midshipmen's summer cruising squadron, sailed to-day for Tompkinsville, N. Y. She will shortly be placed in dry dock at the New York Navy Yard for repairs. The Indiana is still at Annapolis, the Massachusetts having gone to League Island Navy Yard, where she will be placed in reserve.

FOREIGN TRADE EXPANDS.

Comparative Figures for July and Seven Months Ended in July.

Comparative 1909 and 1910 figures of trade of the United States with the principal grand divisions and countries of the world for the month of July and the seven-month period ending July have been completed by the Bureau of Statistics.

While both the imports and exports for the month were about $5,000,000 larger than during July of last year, the monthly imports from and exports to Europe show some decrease. The trade with North and South America, Asia, and Oceania, shows satisfactory increases both on the import and export sides.

For the seven-month period ending July considerable gains over last year's figures are shown by the imports from the principal countries except France, Italy, British India, Japan, and particularly Brazil. The decline in imports from Brazil is due to the smaller receipts during the present year of Brazilian coffee, which were particularly heavy during the early part of 1909.

The large gain in the imports from Cuba during the seven-month period of the present year is due primarily to the larger receipts of higher-priced sugar from that island. Exports during the seven-month period to the leading Asiatic and European countries, except Germany and Russia, were smaller than a year ago, but those to leading American countries made considerable gains. The decrease of exports to Europe is accounted for mainly by the smaller quantity and value of foodstuffs shipped to those countries, and the decline of exports to China is due chiefly to the reduced exports of cotton cloth to that country.

Our total exports to Japan, notwithstanding the increases under many heads, show a slight decline for the period under consideration, because of the large decrease in the Japanese takings of our raw cotton. The value of our exports to Canada during the seven months of the previous year was more than 30 per cent larger than during the corresponding period of 1909.

AEROS FRIGHTEEN BIRDS.

Hunters in France Find Fault with Flying Machines.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The achievements of Frenchmen in the art of flying do not awaken enthusiasm in one class of French people. Hunters, and especially those who live near the aviation schools, say that game is being frightened away by the noise of the motors and by the sight of the aeroplanes, which are taken for gigantic birds of prey.

The Saint-Hubert Club, the great French authority on all shooting matters, has requested Louis Terrier, the well known writer on field sport, to make a report on the matter, but the secretary of the club is inclined to take the question philosophically.

"At the rate the conquest of the air is progressing," he says, "aeroplanes will soon be so common that the game will become accustomed to them, and as there will be aeroplanes in every country the game will have nowhere to flee."

STEAL 6,800 PENNIES.

Boys Carry Them Away in Father's Pouch.

Hoboken, N. J., Sept. 3.—The histrionic ambitions of George Abrams, fourteen years old, led him to tempt ten-year-old Henry Bler, son of Morris Bler, a baker, to do a job of safe-breaking. These boys stole 6,800 Lincoln pennies and $17 in bills from the baker's safe, hauling their plunder away in Abram's handcart, manufactured out of a soap box and two wheels. Their object was to pay the tuition of Abrams in a New York dramatic school.

Henry obtained the key to the safe's inner compartment from his father's trousers. Then he and Abrams unlocked the safe, and wealth lay before them. When Henry finally confessed, 30 pennies were found in his pocket. Both were held for court.

SHOWS CHARITY IN JAIL.

Pittsburgher Pays for Release of a Fellow-prisoner.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 3.—A. A. Vilsack, millionaire banker, who is serving eight months in jail for complicity in bribing Pittsburgh councilmen, has made himself friends in the Pittsburgh jail by paying the costs and fine of a man who had left his wife, sending him back to her with the warning that if he were not a better husband to her that he (Vilsack) would on his release from jail hunt him up personally and whip him.

John Sullivan was the erring husband, and his wife was crying in the outer court of the jail because she could not raise the money needed to release him. Vilsack was touched, and borrowing the needed amount from his brother, who was visiting him, gave it to the wife.

WATERWAY BODY AT NEWPORT

Delegates of Providence Convention on Pleasure Trip.

Newport, Sept. 3.—About 800 of the delegates that have been attending the Atlantic Deepwater Waterways Convention in Providence this week came here to-day to be the guests of the city for a short time. Before arriving in the city proper, however, the visiting party stopped at the Newport Training Station, where they witnessed the monthly general muster ceremonies and a special drill of the 2,000 apprentice seamen. Rear Admiral R. P. Rodgers and his officers did everything to make the visit at the station a pleasant one.

After a trip across the bay in the steamer Warwick as far as Wickford, the delegates came here and took conveyances for a drive about the ocean front and through the residential section of the city.

Death Halts Browne Trial.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—A halt was called in the second trial of Representative Leo O'Neill Browne to-day by the sudden death of Mrs. Julia B. Kerston, wife of Judge George Kerston, who is hearing the case. The trial will go on next Tuesday.
